

Code of Ethics

United Way of
Hunterdon County

United Way of Hunterdon County has earned public trust, which has been nurtured by years of ethical, honest, and responsible charitable service. The continued success of United Way of Hunterdon County depends upon the ethical conduct of the organization, its employees, volunteers and representatives.

To maintain this level of public trust, all employees, Board members, other volunteers and other representatives must maintain the highest level of ethical conduct to preclude even the perception of conflict of interest or favoritism. They will refrain from participating in or influencing any decision or other action of the United Way that could result in a direct or indirect benefit to the individual or his or her family.
